THURSDAY, JUNE 24.

How the whirling of time changes men and things. At the close of the war Parson Brownlow, then governor of Tennessee, drove his predecessor, Isham G. Harris, out of the country by offering a reward of $5,000 for his capture. A few days ago the same Harris, now a senator from Tennessee, introduced a bill for the relief of the widow of Parson Brownlow, and heartily supports it.

This is how the leading democratic papers dwell in unity on their public meet and on public questions. The Louisville Courier-Journal remarks:

More than Sheridan's ride does Mr. Holman's race to the capital to get in his vote for reforming the tariff deserve to be commemorated in noble verse.

Giving it-for-it, the Chicago Times also remarks:

Before assenting to this proposition it should be remembered that Mr. Holman would have ridden just as fast and just as hard to get his vote against reforming the civil service.

A Washington dispatch makes the following announcement: "The republican congressional committee state that the Wisconsin republicans members will be renominated in almost every case without any great opposition. Mr. La Follette, in the Third district, the youngest member of the house, will have little opposition. Mr. Cawell, of the First has a walkover for the nomination and election. Mr. Van Schack, of the Fourth (Milwaukee) will have the hardest race, both to get the nomination and election. Mr. Guenther, in the Fifth, is secure in his place, as are also Meers, Thomas, in the Seventh; Price in the Eighth, and Stephenson, in the Ninth. It seems unlikely that either of the two democrats will be returned, Gen. Bragg, in the Second, it is claimed, made certain pledges to Delaney which will necessitate his retirement. Mr. Hudd, of the Fifth, has made enemies of the friends of the late Congressman Rankin, whose successor he is, and will be vigorously opposed by them in the convention."

So according to this programme, the republicans of the First, Third, Fifth, Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth districts, will have nothing to do but to go through the form of holding conventions and elections as regards congressmen. The congressional committee at Washington is very kind in doing so much gratuitous work for the republicans of Wisconsin.

A VERY POOR RECORD.

On Tuesday a dispatch was sent from Washington to the Chicago Times in regard to the blighting record of the present democratic congress. It is worth reading because it was sent by a democrat to a democratic paper, and of course, may be considered reliable as stating truth is concerned. Here is the poor record disclosed:

"The democratic senators had a caucus, the knowledge of which seems to have escaped public attention. It is ascertained that they met to decide upon a policy as to the order of business, and that the conclusion which they reached was that legislation was not in a satisfactory condition, and that it would not be wise to enter on a campaign with the existing legislative conditions. There was much dissatisfaction that more had not been accomplished, and there was a disposition to censure the democratic majority of the house. The opinion was expressed that congress has been extravagant, unwise, and inefficient, and that an effort ought to be made to make a better record, if possible, before adjournment. The opinion was also expressed that the democratic party had pledged itself in its platform to secure some reduction of taxation, and that it was expedient to still endeavor to accomplish this. If effect should be given to the views of the democratic senators as expressed in this caucus, an adjournment at an early day in July, which has been predicted, would not be possible. If the senate had the right to originate revenue bills, it is quite certain that a proposition would at once be made in that body to revise the tariff. It is not yet clear that there will not be a tariff discussion. The controversy in the house over the rules has shown clearly that the majority of the democratic party feels that the party has not redeemed its party pledges, and that the attempt to secure discussion at this session has not been wholly abandoned. If a tariff discussion shall be forced an effort will be made to secure a combination between the democratic protectionists and the republicans in support of the tariff."

To be sure the democratic party has not redeemed its pledges, and never intended to redeem them. And that Congress has been "extravagant, unwise, and inefficient," is not to be wondered at.

STATE IT FAIRLY.

WATKINS, June 17.—The Dano county tobacco producers were deprived of all relief to-day, when the tariff bill was killed. Representative La Follette voted to kill the bill and so voted against the relief of the tobacco producers.

The foregoing dispatch was sent to the Madison Democrat. Of course Mr. La Follette, and every other republican member from Wisconsin, and all the republican members in congress, except four, voted to kill the bill, and they did their duty. But why doesn't the Democrat state the question fairly, and explain why those who voted against the relief of the tobacco "protectionists"? The bill granting relief to tobacco producers was tacked on to the tariff bill by a cunning device of Morrison. He said, "here you vote with me to uproot the present tariff or I'll knock to the winds your tobacco relief bill." They could not vote for Morrison's bill without striking a blow at some of the important industries of the country, and that they were not willing to do. Common sense and justice dictated the course they took.—Janesville Gazette.

But why don't the Gazette state the case fairly, and say the republican party is owned body, soul, boots and breeches, by Prentiss & Evans opposite O P O

Why Is It, Doctor?

Asked Mrs. Williams, of old Dr. Evans, yesterday that Bruce & Brown's uncolored faultless tea is so much superior to those other uncolored teas that one buys in bulk? One of the main reasons, replied the doctor, is that Bruce & Brown import their faultless tea only in the Perfection tea can, and as that is an almost air tight metal package, none of the original aromatic and invigorating properties of the sensitive leaf can possibly escape.

Shurtliff's ice cream put up in any form and delivered to any part of the city. Order at Skinner's.

Shurtliff's cream served at parties by Skinner. Telephone or mail orders promptly filled.

There are sure indications of a boom in city property. I have some choice bargains that those intending to buy should inspect at once.

C. E. BOWLES.

BRIEFS.

- Attend the concert.
- Choral Union concert this evening.
- A pleasant shower at eleven o'clock last night.
- Mrs. Abbie Carrington at the Choral Union concert this evening.
- Choral Union concert at the Congregational church this evening.
- A party of third ward young ladies picnicked opposite Pope Springs yesterday afternoon.
- Tobacco growers took advantage of the moist ground this morning and commenced setting tobacco plants.
- Several of the young ladies who have been attending school at Rockford and Madison, returned home this morning.
- A large number of Janesville people went to Whitewater to-day to attend the Catholic Temperance Union convention.
- Janesville Commandery No. 2, Knights Templar, assemble in regular semi-monthly conclave this evening at Masonic hall.
- Reliable information wanted concerning the whereabouts of the fire last night. Nominal reward. Apply to Night Officer McGinley.
- Dr. S. H. Gish gave another stereopticon entertainment at the First M. E. church last night and pleasantly entertained a very fair sized audience.
- The Recorder seems anxious to show its contempt for all constituted municipal authority. This morning it proclaimed one of its stock-holders, Alderman T. T. Croft, chairman of the highway, street and bridge committee, notwithstanding the fact that Mayor Wrenas, some weeks ago, appointed Alderman J. B. McLean to that important position. It is believed that this refusal on the part of the recorder to confirm Alderman McLean's appointment is to punish the mayor for not asking that paper's consonant in the matter. The "official organ" should be merciful, however, for should this opposition power be used too freely it might cause much embarrassment among the city officials.
- John G. Rutherford and Richard Valente went to Chicago this morning to obtain further points regarding the transformation of the rink into an open house.
- "I am said" that the fire of last night was two miles south of Beloit. Our advice from Beloit to-day do not mention the calling out of the Beloit fire department.
- Lawn tennis is having an unusual run here this summer. While no clubs have yet been organized it is probable that there will be one and perhaps two formed in the near future.
- The street railway track on Milwaukee street bridge is completed, and the pavement has been replaced, the iron rails are not so much an obstruction to travel as many supposed they would be.
- Our break-day contemporary had letter "post up" on the game law of that state. Had he been familiar with the provisions of that law he would not have made the "bad break" he did this morning.
- Work on the street railway line was suspended a short time to-day for the purpose of allowing the engineers to reset the grade stakes, which had been removed by the workmen in excavating for track.
- Academy street in the first ward is now thoroughly torn up. The hill just west of the railroad track is being plowed down to grade and the roadway looks like a section of freshly broken tobacco land.
- William Nelson, a Norwegian seventeen years of age, died at his home west of the city about ten o'clock last night. He had no relatives in this country and had been working for Mr. R. Wiggin. The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon.
- Beloit Free Press: Mr. A. O. Allison, aged 76 years, for thirty-five years a resident of Spring Valley, near Oxfordville, died Monday of abscess of the lungs. His funeral occurred at noon Wednesday, at the Spring Valley Lutheran church.
- The Angle-worm club is considerably worked up because of violations of the game law that have taken place recently. It is said that near this city last Sunday several prairie chickens were shot, notwithstanding the fact that such sport is illegal until the fifteenth of August.
- Mme. Abbie Carrington, and Bach's Milwaukee orchestra arrived in the city at noon to-day, and had a rehearsal with the Choral Union this afternoon. The concert this evening will be all that has been promised and more. Secure your tickets at Pronto & Evanson's drug store.
- Miss Ida Davis will personate Portia in the play at the opera house next Monday night, while Mrs. L. P. Blane will be recognized as the Juliet of the occasion. The characters will all be that has been promised and more. Secure your tickets at Pronto & Evanson's drug store.
- Frank B. Phelps returned this morning from Madison where he has been attending school at the state university.—Ogden H. Fethers and M. G. Jeffris went to Milwaukee this morning to attend to business in the United States court.
- Mrs. Lizzie Wagner, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Madison and Richland Center for the past six weeks, returned home yesterday.
- Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Row, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Behan are at Lake Koshkonong to-day, intending to remain until to-morrow evening.
- The west side F. F. of J. baseball club did not defeat the famous Gas House club in last Sunday's game, but they did defeat a picked nine that were found on the grounds. The Gas House Stars are organized and are ready to play for the amateur championship of the city, and have so issued their challenge.

The Gas House Stars are organized and are ready to play for the amateur championship of the city, and have so issued their challenge.
- The Ancient Order of Hibernians have elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Thomas Casey; vice president, Peter J. Riley; recording secretary, James Cassidy; financial secretary, John Conway; treasurer, John M. Nelson; sergeant-at-arms, James Riley. The trustees are John Branigan, Thomas Madden, James Donahue.
- At the South Side Gun Club tournament in Milwaukee yesterday, F. P. Stannard, of this city, was chosen referee in the shoot between four teams from different parts of the state. He was also entered in a match for five single and five pairs. There black birds, as eighteen and fifteen yards rise, and won first money, breaking twelve birds. In the match there were seventeen entries.
- Of Mme. Abbie Carrington, who is to sing at the Choral Union concert to-night, the Chicago Evening Journal, a very conservative paper, says: "Her scale and trill are wonderfully even and true, and the high notes were taken softly and without effort or straining. Her two best efforts were the final solo in the third scene of the second act, and the famous polonaise."
- It was "dark as Egypt" to the fire department last night, after they left the business center of the city in their wild chase to find the fire. The heavy foliage of the trees which line the resident streets, together with the heavy clouds which obscured the sky at the time.

made it truly, as the small boy said, as dark as a deep cellar at midnight, with a black cat in it on a pitch dark night."

—Our citizens now point with pride to the street railway, but then pride is somewhat diminished by the calamitous air that the piles of old scrap and battered paving blocks lead to our principal thoroughfare. Is it really necessary that all this rubbish should mark the progress of such an improvement as is now being made. Many think not and complaints are heard from every quarter.

—A party of about twenty-five from the St. Patrick's Total Abstinence and Benevolence Society marched to the Chicago, Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western Ry., at 15 months old, and has 1,500 inhabitants, commencing at the Amville mine, 2½ miles east of Bessamer, going westward to the Germania, Captain Luther, of the Amville mine says he has struck a large vein of ore and is present exploring to find out the best plan of working it. This mine is situated on a side hill and can be worked very cheap.

The famous Colby mine has about 400 men employed, and is shipping 2,400 tons per day. This mine is being worked from the side and top. The Milwaukee and Lake Shore has a side track running into the mine, and is so arranged that the ore can be shoveled into the cars direct from the mine by means of a 500 foot tunnel that the cars are run into and shafts sunk down to the tunnel. They have opened a vein for 1,200 feet long and no end is in sight yet, and is 150 feet wide on what is called the scarp vein, and the north vein is about as good as the south.

Next is the Valley, Ironon, Portion and Blue Jacket which are proving to be good properties and shipments will soon be made on the first three named.

The First National has all the indication of being as good as the Colby.

There are several shafts and a deposit of ore together with a vein from 10 to 62 feet in width and 1,200 feet long showing a good clean ore from two to eight feet below the surface. The superintendent is locating the plant of machinery and will soon be ready to ship.

The Bonnie is the next west and has a good showing for a fine quality of ore. The Rock King mine comes next. This mine commenced shipping the last day of last month and is at present shipping 220 tons per day, the ore is mined from the top. Taking open pits the ore is shoveled into buckets and hoisted up and swung, and dumped into cars by a crane. The Aurora mine is mined in about the same manner and is shipping 650 tons per day. The Norris mine employs about 250 men and is shipping 500 tons per day.

The next mine is the Ashland which is owned and operated by the Heys Bros. formerly of Madison; they have reached a depth of 230 feet and not found anything but ore, showing the vein to be 160 feet wide and are shipping about 750 tons per day. They say at the bottom of the 230 foot shaft they find their best ore. Are now in sight of the city of Ironwood, which is just across the state line from Hurley, Wis. The former is a place less than a year old and has 1,300 inhabitants. Hurley is just on the opposite side of the Montreal river, is about the same age and has about 2,500 and will be the largest place in that part of the country.

The Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western railway company has a one clock at Ashland 200 feet long, 40 feet high and 52 feet wide, being wide enough for four railway trains to run on at the same time.

The agent, Mr. Barr, and they were receiving a daily average of 5,000 tons of ore, and their receipts this year would be about $100,000 tons. The dock is so constructed that the ore is very easily unloaded into the pockets, and from there into vessels without shoveling it at all, and the process of unloading cars is very quick, they having unloaded eighteen cars in eighteen minutes.

The dock cost the railway company $300,000. As I have before stated much credit is due the company for its good management.

The eating houses are of the very best.

The company has taken chances but very few would; their object has been to open up the country, while it bids fair at present to be a good investment, it is liable to have its drawbacks.

CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS.

MADISON, June 23.—Delegates to the national conference of Charities and Corrections were appointed as follows to-day by Gov. Bush: Mrs. Katie T. Griswold, Columbus; Mrs. Francis M. Winsor, Janesville; Miss Ella Gilkes, Madison; Geo. S. Graves, Fitchburg; Prof. J. J. Binnsell, Beloit; Peter Doyle and E. A. Bray, Mrs. K. C. Spencer, Milwaukee; Rev. J. M. Cleary, Kenosha; Rev. James O'Malley, Oshkosh.

No lady in the state is better qualified to represent Wisconsin in this conference than the wife of our honorable mayor. The conference will assemble at St. Paul July 13th.

A TRIP ON FOOT OVER THE GRANITE FROM HOMME.

To the Editor:

ASHLAND, WIS., June 20th, 1886.—Bessamer, Michigan, is a place situated on the Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western Ry., at 15 months old, and has 1,500 inhabitants, commencing at the Amville mine, 2½ miles east of Bessamer, going westward to the Germania, Captain Luther, of the Amville mine says he has struck a large vein of ore and is present exploring to find out the best plan of working it. OUR DAIRY.

Fred A. Hart.

Very small man in a great many clothes, with skin just as red as ever rose;

And hands full of dimples, that are clutching And eyes of deep blue, with an unmeaning stare.

But that very small man, how large in his robes and how slimy the breeze when he stands at the helm;

While his quickly'er crest become the home;

While the little man's voice is uplifted in cheer.

In his dress only mothers can imagine how rich;

In robes and fond prayers was taken each

Hours over our boy like an angel's cuties,

And a rose not a flower "by the calm Bon-dean,"

Was ever of our very small man the poor;

And no perfume of Arab's ever fragrant;

The senses, like one of our little maid's smile;

His hands, though so feeble, can sweep o'er our hearts;

A "word without words" whose rhyme never disparts;

Whose melody surges and never abates;

It's like a dream to him;

It's like a hymn to him;

It's like a lullaby to him;

It's like a hymn to him;

It's like a hymn to him;

It's like a hymn to him;
